KITCHENER CAN CALL FOR HALF MILLION

Has Ordered Out 100,000 Volunteers to Join 100,000 Just Raised—Whole Force to Be Sent to Continent.

London, Aug. 10.—Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons today that War Minister Lord Kitchener had ordered the volunteer army of 100,000 men already raised in Great Britain supplemented by 100,000 more.

This was taken as meaning that the entire British regular force will be sent to the continent, where a considerable part of it has already been landed.

Kitchener has authority from parliament to raise 500,000 volunteers.

WELL-BRED SWINE.

In selecting foundation stock for the hog herd it is best to purchase animals whose ancestry was bred continuously by a single breeder. This is the belief and experience of Professor G. R. Samson, swine specialist at the Oregon Agricultural college. In this way the buyer gets the benefit of a successful breeder's judgment. Lacking better means of judging desirable animals it is safe to assume that stock though good enough to be retained in the herds of the breeder, generation after generation, is better than average stock. It pays to be wary of the stock whose ancestry was bred by many different breeders that are unknown in the history of the breed. In every case the buyer of foundation stock should become familiar with the history of the stock selected, learning the weak points to avoid them and the strong points to preserve them.

PORTLAND TO CELEBRATE OPENING OF CANAL

One week from today the Panama canal will open to commerce. Portland will celebrate the event. Mayor Albee will officially designate the day as one of celebration and rejoicing. The chamber of commerce will direct a program of celebration. A committee has been appointed, consisting of Walter B. Mackay, C. H. Moore, W. E. Conant, H. M. Haller, John B. Yeon. The club will cooperate in arrangements. Its committee consists of Shirley D. Parker, A. P. Goss, C. K. Zilly, R. H. Lerner, Joe Sandvall.

The exact moment of opening the canal will be learned. The mayor will call upon manufacturers, vessels in the harbor and others to blow whistles and ring bells. Flags will be raised over all buildings. It is probable a public meeting will be held under joint auspices at which speakers will define the importance to us of the canal in commercial development and trade extension.

"He turned his automobile around in the middle of the block at midnight last night and I fined him a dollar," explained Miss Grace Stearns, Police Judge in the absence of R. S. Bryson.

"And he paid it and went out smiling," she concluded.

SAYS GERMANY WAS "DELAYED" BY BELGIUM

Rotterdam, Aug. 10.—The German war office was quoted here today as having announced to the people that the German army had thus far been uniformly successful.

It admitted that the Kaiser's forces at Liege were delayed but asserted that they finally won and that the time lost had not interfered appreciably with the campaign against the French frontier.

On the eastern frontier, it was declared the Russians had been everywhere repulsed, while the Germans were ready to advance the moment the word was given.

Unworthy of Consideration.

About midnight at an evening party a gentleman was asked to sing. He thoughtfully declined to do so on the plea that it would disturb the next door neighbors.

"Oh, never mind the neighbors!" cried the dog of the house. "They poisoned our dog last week."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Shopping By Telephone

Two publications will do much to obviate the discomforts of warm weather shopping.

One is the advertising columns of The Journal.

The other is a telephone directory.

First sit comfortably in the shade and do your shopping through the advertising columns.

Then call into aid your telephone and the alert merchants with their modern ideas of service will do the rest.

The men who advertise are the men who will serve you best.

BABCOCK TESTERS FOR MANY SCHOOLS

A plan to introduce Babcock milk testing into a number of the schools of the county is being worked out by Superintendent W. M. Smith. Already the full quota of ten schools has asked to have the testers installed and the pupils will take up the work of this department of dairying. All of the work will be done by the boys and girls of the schools and the milk of two or more cows will be weighed and recorded and once each month the milk will be tested for its per cent of butter fat. The Babcock tester is a simple apparatus in which samples of the milk are mixed with sulphuric acid which separates the butter fat from the other parts and the percentage is shown on a graduated scale.

The schools which will take up the work are Turner, Cloverdale, Aumsville, Stayton, Sublimity, North Santiam, Marion, Jefferson, Sidney and Salem Heights. The Oregon Agricultural college will send out a man to set up the tester and to give the first test.

Later it is proposed to hold at least two dairy institutes where lectures on the subject may be heard and a number of cows will be brought in for the pupils to judge according to approved methods of scoring.

W. C. Gaunt, the principal of the Stayton schools, has already completed arrangements for the first dairy institute to be held in Stayton on September 23 and 24 on which dates the schools of that city are holding an industrial school fair. A number of special prizes are offered to the pupils of the schools for the results of their work in canning fruits and vegetables, gardening and work along other industrial lines.

NEW O. A. C. CATALOGUE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., Aug. 10.—All prospective college students, men and women of mature years as well as girls and boys, will find a vast fund of valuable information in the new O. A. C. catalogue just issued and placed in the hands of the college registrar for distribution.

With other useful knowledge that the catalogue imparts it tells what may enter the college, under what conditions, what the probable expense of the college will be, and some of the benefits of the college training.

Many significant improvements and additions to the work of the agricultural college are seen to have been made during the year just ended. An important addition is the authorization of vocational courses for grammar school students who have not the time to prepare for the degree courses, and for men and women who feel the need of more expert knowledge and higher technical skill in carrying on their like work, but have not the money, the time or the educational qualications for entering the degree courses.

Beginning September 22, this special vocational work will be offered in agriculture, dairying and home making for one year; in business methods for two years; and in mechanic arts for three years. On November 2, the vocational course in forestry opens for a five and a half months' term.

The work in all these courses is thoroughly practical, and includes only the subjects of greatest importance in the practical industries for which they offer training.

The new standard for admission to the degree courses is also fully explained in the new catalogue. The exact meaning of the 12 required credits is pointed out and the substitutions and conditions are plainly stated. It is further shown that after the close of the year 1914-15 the standard will require 15 full credits from an accredited high school, the equivalent of four full years of secondary education. If entrance is sought on examinations, the prospective entrants should present themselves for examination on September 18, 19 or 21. Entrance may be secured by transfer from other colleges and universities.

The college year opens September 22, and ends June 8. The first semester ends February 4, and the second begins February 9. Farmers' week is November 30 to December 5, and the winter short course is from January 4 to January 30.
